POPE RECEIVES AMERICANS

NEW PONTIFF GREETED PILGRIMS FROM AMERICA.

Cardinal Gibbons Arranges Reception of Foreign Pilgrimage, Which is Unprecedented in Annals of the Vatican.

Rome, Aug. 5.—The spirit of "The king is dead, long live the king," which has been repeated through all the long ages upon change of sovereigns was the dominant note to day at the Vatican among those gathered there, not to acknowledge an earthly sovereign, but to accept withal reserve Pope Plus X. as their spiritual king. Not only had America enjoyed the first announcing, through the Associated Press, accession of the present pontiff to the chair of St. Peter's, but to day Americans enjoyed the far greater privilege and honor of being the first among those of many other countries who were to follow to convey to his holiness the homage of nations. The Americans left the United States to receive the blessing of Leo XIII. and arrived while the conclave was sitting. As soon as the election of the new pope was announced they decided to return, though greatly disappointed in their mission. To day while at the station and about to depart they were notified Cardinal Gibbons had arranged a meeting with the new pope.

Cardinal Gibbons had been asked yesterday to try to arrange for reception of the Americans and had promised to do his best, at the same time explaining how unprecedented it would be for the pope, a day after his election, to receive a foreign pilgrimage when there were scores of high dignitaries who had not yet been admitted, including the diplomatic body. Nevertheless he used his influence with the happiest result and secured consent of the pope to receive his fellow countrymen. At 5:30 this afternoon all were at the bronze doors of the Vatican. They were met by Monsignor Kennedy, rector of the American college, whose presence was sufficient to make the Swiss guard step back, present arms and give entrance to all. They trooped up the high staircase, one hundred strong, and on through the corridors, bending their heads to pass through openings in the walls which had been erected for the conclave. Bricks were still lying about on the flagstones. Through the beautiful loggia of Raphael they passed to the unique Hall of Inscriptions, where a halt was called. After a considerable wait two Swiss guards entered and before the pilgrims could quite realize it the pope stood among them. He walked slowly, but with the firmness of quite a young man, down the long kneeling line, accompanied by Cardinal Gibbons and Monsignor Kennedy, and gave to each pilgrim as he passed his hand to be kissed. He spoke a few words to almost every one. Plus X. was arrayed completely in white, without a gleam of color except that which sparkled from a huge emerald on his finger. Gibbons on his right was in red and Monsignor Kennedy on the left in purple. They were preceded by Swiss guards with halberds and followed by members of the noble guards. Pope Plus X. appeared very much interested when Father Lynch presented to him a box containing a white zucchetto. The pope accepted and the new zucchetto replaced the one the pope wore. Offerings of pilgrims were also presented to the pope.

To Father Burke the pope gave special benediction for colored people. Occasionally as the pope passed along he laid his hand upon the head of one of the pilgrims. When Plus reached the persons who waved the American flags yesterday at St. Peter's and who were carrying them to day he exclaimed: "Cara, cara, American, dear America—forty-four stars, eh?" When he reached the last person in line he turned and while all the pilgrims knelt he gave the apostolic blessing, ending with the words: "I recommend myself to your pious prayers." It was a moment of intense emotion and scarcely was an eye dry.

Cardinal Gibbons upon leaving the Vatican said he had been delighted to present the American pilgrimage to the new pope under such happy circumstances.

GOVERNMENT NOT NOTIFIED.

Premier Zanardelli has ordered all government officials to abstain from participation in festivities over the election of the new pope, as Plus X. has not notified the government of his election.

RURAL FREE DELIVERY.

Washington, Aug. 5.—The postoffice department established during July 2,437 rural free delivery routes. Total routes established for the fiscal year ended June 30 were 5,664. It is announced there is remaining unallotted of the appropriation for the present fiscal year a sufficient sum to establish about 4,000 additional routes.

CONVICTED OF PERJURY.

St. Louis, Aug. 5.—Harry A. Faulkner, former member of the house of delegates, was to day convicted of perjury and sentenced to three years in the penitentiary. At the first trial Faulkner was convicted, but the supreme court reversed and remanded the case. The jury that tried the case the second time disagreed.

Faulkner's counsel immediately filed a motion for a new trial and $15,000 bond was given.

WILL BE NO STRIKE

Rock Island Road Comes to Time and Trainmen Secure Increase in Wages.

Chicago, Aug. 5.—At a conference of officials of the Rock Island railroad and the grievance committee of trainmen and conductors to day an agreement was practically reached by which all grievances of the men will be settled. It is declared all danger of a strike has passed.

By terms of settlement between the Rock Island railway and employees wages will be increased and working rules revised. According to the agreement, which takes effect Aug. 1, passenger conductors will receive 12 per cent more than the scale of Jan. 1, 1902, which was $125, and freight conductors will get 15 per cent increase over the scale of 3 cents a mile. The increase of freight trainmen is 15 per cent over the former scale of 2 cents per mile, and passenger brakemen will get an increase of 12 per cent over their scale, which varies in different parts of the country.

LINCOLN CAR SOLD.

St. Louis, Aug. 5.—A dispatch from Omaha says: "The famous Lincoln car, which has been in the possession of the Union Pacific railroad for thirty-seven years, has been sold to private parties who will exhibit it at the St. Louis exposition. For many years the car has stood on a siding in the Union Pacific yard in Omaha without attracting more than passing attention. It was part of the railroad exhibit at the Chicago and Omaha expositions. The car was built at the military car shops at Alexandria, Va., in 1864 and was ironclad, armor being set between the inner and outer walls. It carried the remains of the martyred president to Springfield and was then sold to the Union Pacific road."

RIOTING IN FRANCE.

Paris, Aug. 5.—Serious rioting is in progress at L'Orient, on the coast of Brittany, where labor troubles have been brewing for the past several days. Rioters attacked a military club and stoned and broke shop windows. Military was called out and rioters erected barricades. The military charged and ran down the mob. Rioting is likely to continue during the night. The crowds show no signs of dispersal, and at midnight they were marching to attack the prefecture.

REFUSED NATURALIZATION PAPERS

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 5.—Judge Clifford D. Gregory in the county court to day rejected sixty applications for naturalization papers and declared he would not naturalize any person who is unable to speak the English language sufficiently to make himself understood. "When a man has been in this country five years and is unable to talk our language," said the judge, "in my opinion he is not fit to be admitted to citizenship."

OUTRAGER LYNCHED.

Asotin, Wash., Aug. 5.—Despite efforts of the little victim's father, Sheriff Richards of Asotin county, who had sworn in twenty-five deputies to guard the brute, William Hamilton, a well-to-do farmer, self-confessed outrager and brutal murderer of Mabel Richards, aged 11, was forcibly taken from jail here shortly after midnight and lynched by a mob of over a thousand men which had been congregated all day from all parts of the county. Hamilton said he met the girl in the woods, outraged her and killed her for fear she would tell on him. He choked her into an insensible state and then beat her brains out with a club and thought no more of it, he said, than killing a cat.

ABDUCTED HIS OWN CHILD.

Bloomington, Aug. 5.—The abduction of his own 5-year-old daughter by R. Sydney Smith, a newspaper artist and cartoonist of Pittsburg, Pa., created a sensation here. He came here a week ago with his second wife, of Pittsburg, to visit his parents and also his daughter by a former marriage. Yesterday the couple left secretly for Pittsburg, taking with them the child, although peremptory orders had been issued by the circuit judge here forbidding removal of the youngster from the city. When Smith was divorced from his first wife the court awarded him the custody of the child, but directed that his parents should be the guardians and that it should be left in Bloomington and that the mother should be allowed to visit it at her pleasure. She has since married again and is the wife of Dr. J. W. Harwood. She threatens to have Smith arrested for abduction and early proceedings are looked for.

TWO BROKERAGE FIRMS ASSIGN

ANNOUNCED ON STOCK EXCHANGE YESTERDAY

Sharp & Bryan Fall With Liabilities of About $5,000,000—Hurlbutt, Hatch & Co. Also Go Under.

New York, Aug. 5.—The suspension of the firm of Sharp & Bryan was announced on the stock exchange to day. Charles Bryan is a member of the governing committee of the exchange and the firm are known as specialists in Virginia, Carolina, United States Realty and Construction and Southern railway and had a mercantile agency rating of from $200,000 to $300,000.

According to a statement of the assignee Sharp & Bryan's liabilities are about $5,000,000, mostly secured.

The failure of Hurlbutt, Hatch & Co., members of the stock exchange, was also announced. This firm's embarrassment has been a matter of general comment in the "street" for some weeks. No statement regarding their affairs was obtainable to day.

The day's business on the stock exchange can best be summarized by the statement that almost four score stocks, fully two-thirds of the active list, touched the lowest record reached during the present movement, which had its inception last September. At the close of the day some of the solid interests—and it is suggested these interests have been "out of the market" for weeks past save here and there when support was most necessary—spoke reassuringly. They declared the financial atmosphere was being clarified, but for all that Wall street, as a whole, had no silver lining in the clouds, much less a golden one.

Other failures were confidently predicted and the names of several important firms were mentioned as among those in financial straits.

A sharp break in sterling exchange during the day was coupled with the suggestion that at least one international banking house has been making desperate efforts to borrow money abroad. Officers of leading local banks and trust companies declined to discuss the situation, except to express confidence as to the sound condition of financial institutions.

To day's shrinkage alone aggregates many millions of dollars. Countless stock orders were caught in the selling avalanche and it is possible hundreds of weak accounts were closed in utter disregard of losses sustained by their owners.

HAD KILLED TWO MEN BEFORE.

Danville, Aug. 5.—Dode Carrington, the slayer of his sister-in-law, Mrs. Lydia Carrington, is still at large and nothing has been heard of his whereabouts, although no stone is being left unturned by the sheriff's office to locate him.

Sheriff Whitlock has received a picture of Carrington from James Lynch, superintendent of police at Terre Haute. This will be printed on circulars and sent all over the country. The sheriff also received a letter from Superintendent Lynch which gives further details concerning Carrington's criminal career. It seems that he killed two men instead of one. Superintendent Lynch states that on Feb. 12, 1888, in a saloon fight at Grant Station, eight miles west of Terre Haute, Carrington shot and killed two men, Bayless Ewart and Wesley Niece. He made his escape and was captured a few months later in the Smoky mountains in Tennessee, a few miles from the Virginia line. He was sentenced to a term of twenty-one years in the penitentiary at Jeffersonville and was out on parole. His real name is John T. Carrington, but he is commonly known as Dode Carrington, and has also traveled under the alias of John Albright.

Catholics were enjoined to exert influence against such savagery. Resolutions also protested against the action of the French government in attempting to legalize religious persecutions and asking Catholics to endeavor to wrest the government from those who have misused the powers entrusted them.

The convention pledged co-operation and support of Catholic Indian schools, also to exclude from public libraries books that are offensive or erroneous to treatment of Catholic doctrines and practice and to supply standard works of the subjects.

CALLS ROCKEFELLER ANARCHIST.

Chicago, Aug. 5.—John D. Rockefeller was accused yesterday by the board of review of creating a spirit of anarchy in the United States. The accuser was Reviewer Upham and the cause of the accusation was the attempt of the Union Tank Line company to keep down the amount of its assessment.

"You spent thousands of dollars last year to lawyers to fight the payment of any tax," said Mr. Upham, "even carrying the case up to the supreme court, did you not?"

"I don't know exactly how much we spent," responded one of the representatives, "but it was quite a sum."

W. J. BRYAN TALKS IN OHIO

ATTENDS COUNTY CONVENTION AT URBANA

Confers With Party Leaders of That State—John H. Bookwalter, of Springfield, Possible Presidential Nominee.

Urbana, Ohio, Aug. 5.—William Jennings Bryan was present at to day's Democratic convention of Champaign county, which nominated delegates to the state convention at Columbus. The convention endorsed John L. Zimmerman, of Springfield, for the nomination for governor and adopted resolutions endorsing both the Chicago and Kansas City platforms, and expressed continued confidence in Bryan.

Mr. Bryan, in a speech, congratulated the convention on its harmony and denied he was a disturber as charged by some who disturbed the party for years. He said the trouble with the Democratic party began in 1892, when "bunko steers" led the party into the net of Wall street, just as the confidence man works individuals. He insisted the same "bunko steering" could not be repeated, and that those who had not been loyal could not resume leadership until after they became at least repentant.

To day's meeting is considered as the opening of the Democratic campaign in Ohio. Besides Bryan the speakers were John L. Zimmerman of Springfield, Mayor Johnson of Cleveland and ex-Congressman Leitz of Columbus. All the addresses attracted attention because of direct references to certain men as well as to policies on which there are differences within the party. Zimmerman, who followed Bryan, referred to the fathers of Democracy and eternal principles of the party. Mayor Johnson and ex-Congressman Leitz made emphatic declaration that this was no time for "dead issues." Johnson's speech is accepted as indicating he is a receptive candidate for governor. All the speakers lunched together and held a conference this afternoon.

Springfield, Ohio, Aug. 5.—William J. Bryan was this evening the guest of John W. Bookwalter. Their conference is considered of national significance owing to a report the Bryan wing of the Democratic party is in favor of Bookwalter for the Democratic nomination for president. After the conference Bryan spoke of Bookwalter's Democracy most approvingly. "It is too early yet to talk definitely about a presidential nominee. We have congressional elections to take our time and attention next. It seems to me Mr. Bookwalter would make a most suitable candidate. He is a farmer and business man. One ought to appeal to the east and the other to the west."

HOW IT REALLY WORKS.

Chicago Inter Ocean: Hardy R. Whitlock, the Danville sheriff, who, single-handed, subdued a murderous mob, is an organization Republican. He has always worked with and in the regular Republican organization of Vermilion county. He was nominated by the Republican organization and was opposed by the Republican "reformers."

John Beard, the Danville mayor, who went away and sat down while a murderous mob tortured and slew a prisoner in his custody, is not an organization man in politics. Nominally, he is a Democrat, but he is careful to have it understood that he is an "independent" or "reform" Democrat. He was elected in an attempt to "smash the machine" in Danville.

According to the "independent" theory of politics the "independent" mayor ought to have done better when the test of his official fidelity came than the organization sheriff. According to this theory the sheriff ought to have stopped to think whether or not his party organization would lose votes by his quelling the mob, while the mayor ought to have thought of nothing but his duty under the laws.

However, the facts were just the other way. The mayor saw "prominent and respectable citizens" in the mob, and went and sat down. The sheriff saw nothing but rioters and stood up and put them down.

Queer, isn't it, how these cocksure political theories go off at the wrong end in real life?

ATTACKS THAT REACT.

Hamilton Press: The overzealous detractors of Governor Yates are really helping the governor into the confidence of the people of Illinois by their willful and malicious misrepresentations. The lie when it rebounds hurts the author and his "cause." A case in point is the foolish charge of the anti-Yates papers that the game wardens appointed are unsatisfactory and are not representative of the sportsmen of the state. The dispatches from Springfield mouthing the discontent say:

"The recent appointment of game wardens by Governor Yates is anything but satisfactory to the hunters, the men directly affected. They have always held that men of experience should be chosen for these positions, and they claim that only one of the new appointees does any hunting at all."

"The new appointments, which the hunters say are in payment of political debts, are as follows: Hawes Yates, of Jacksonville; H. S. Lovejoy, Jacksonville; George W. Clark, Chicago; C. F. Hodge, Bloomington; J. S. Johnson, Olney; Theodore York, Springfield; H. S. Reardon, Springfield; A. D. Barber, Hamilton; John S. Marshall, Chicago; E. H. Bartles, Detroit."

"The appointments made by the governor do not include a single town or city on a river."

The charge that the game wardens are not sportsmen can well be taken with salt since we know that there are few men more thoroughly wedded to hunting as a sport than Capt. A. D. Barber, of this city. And we also know that Hamilton is on a river and is in one of the greatest hunting belts in the state.

As to the appointments being made as a matter of politics we know nothing. But if there ever was an appointment made in Illinois by Democrat or Republican, or by governor or other official made on any other basis it is yet to be learned of. Or it may be in this instance that the governor simply appointed Lovejoy as game commissioner, who selected the game wardens.

This effort to pick a few flaws in Governor Yates' official character is too childish. Such attacks serve but one good purpose. They show the venom of the attack without injuring its object.

ALASKA AS AN INVESTMENT.

Since the discovery of the Klondike and the establishment of the government assay office at Seattle, a period of five years, the total receipts of gold dust and gold bullion amount to $73,364,790, or more than $14,000,000 per year. Of this amount $11,285,971 came from the mines of Nome, $54,842,144 from the Klondike, $3,428,780 from the British Columbia, $2,654,037 from Treadwell and other Alaska mines, $1,153,856 from mines of Washington and Oregon.—Dispatch from Seattle, in yesterday's Inter Ocean.

The United States in 1867 paid $7,200,000 for Alaska. This was at the rate of 2 cents an acre, says the Inter Ocean, but congressmen quite generally agreed that the price was too high.

Gen. B. F. Butler, of Massachusetts proposed in congress on July 7, 1868, to pay Russia the $7,200,000 for her friendship and ask her to keep Alaska. He declared that at any time within twenty years we could have had Alaska for the asking and added:

No man, except one insane enough to buy the earthquakes in St. Thomas and the ice fields in Greenland, could be found to agree to any other terms for the acquisition of Alaska.

Mr. Washburn, of Wisconsin, insisted that Greenland was a better territory to purchase than Alaska, which, he said, was absolutely without value.

Hiram Price, congressman from Iowa, said: "Alaska is a dead loss to us anyway, and the more expense we incur the worse it is for the country and the people."

Orange Ferris, congressman from New York, declared: "Alaska with the Aleutian islands is an inhospitable, wretched, and God-forsaken region, worth nothing, but a positive injury and incumbrance as a colony in the United States."

Benjamin F. Loan, of Missouri, said: "The acquisition of this inhospitable waste would never add one dollar to the wealth of our country."

The Alaska salmon catch of 1902 alone was worth $7,200,000, the price paid for the territory. In five years the Alaskan mines have sent to Seattle alone $14,000,000 in gold dust and bullion, nearly twice the purchase price of the territory.

In 1902 the total output of gold in Alaska was $18,870,075, and in 1901 it was $14,675,875, or for two years $33,545,950—more than four times the amount paid to Russia in 1867.

Previous to 1897 we had taken $15,000,000 gold from Alaska—also more than twice the purchase price. From 1868 to 1897 the Alaskan fishery products brought us $68,000,000. The fur sale for twenty years after 1870 amounted to $33,000,000. The fur companies paid into the United States treasury $7,460,000. Thus one item of cash in the treasury was more than the price paid for the territory.

Meanwhile, the gold mines are increasing their output annually at a rate of 40 per cent, the copper mines are being developed, railways are being built, and a naval station on the Aleutian islands bids fair to become a great commercial center.

Alaska has paid for itself many times over. It is doing so now almost every year. It has more than justified the expectations of Mr. Seward. How sagacious to day appears his policy in comparison with the puny wisdom of the anti-expansion congressmen!

THAT TWO-CENT RATE.

Passenger officials of the western lines here do not view with serious alarm the threat of the Chicago-Great Western to put in a 2-cent rate. They do not think that such a course would be adopted, and do not believe that conditions in western territory would justify it. The 2-cent proposition has been discussed very often in the past, and if it should ever, as the result of the competitive conditions, become the permanent basis in the west, all special or excursion rates or reduced rates for large gatherings, would be entirely abolished. Just now the western lines are co-operating in a strong movement to prevent scalping and are not disposed to look with favor upon any plan, mileage book or otherwise, that would have the effect of reducing rates and opening the door to further manipulation on the part of scalpers.

Sarcastic Hetty Green.
Hetty Green one day went into a broker's office and was mistaken for a book agent by the manager, who pretended he was too busy to see her. Mrs. Green, however, made one or two remarks which struck him as being very sagacious, and he was beginning to thaw out when his quiet visitor said: "Don't let me disturb you, I am Mrs. Hetty Green. Maybe you've heard of me." The manager had not yet recovered his breath when Mrs. Hetty left the office.

Leipzig's Triple Ambition.
The Leipzig (Germany) city council has passed an ordinance compelling city employees to take up their residence within the city limits. As the waterworks, lighting plants, storage warehouses, markets, pawn shops, hospitals, etc., are municipal, a large number of people will be affected. It is said that this action was taken in order to foster Leipzig's growth, to increase the city's income and to concentrate the Conservative vote.

An Unnecessary Luxury.
In a Wurttemberg mountain village which is being frequented as a summer resort a demand arose for a bath house. The matter was discussed by the city fathers pro and con. Finally one of them arose and said: "Gentlemen, I am seventy-five years old and have never had a bath in my life. I am in good health." The bath house was voted unnecessary.

Poverty Stricken York.
In consequence of the revelations regarding the abject poverty of one-tenth of the 73,000 inhabitants of York, England, made in Bowring's book, "Poverty, a Study of Town Life," two manufacturers, employing together 6,200 laborers, increased their wages to 24 shillings a week. They ranged previously from 15 to 21 shillings.

PURE FOOD LAWS

Methods Looking to Their Enforcement—Inspector Ware Has Been at Work Here.

J. C. Ware, inspector for the state food commission, has been in the city several days, collecting samples of food products to be sent to Champaign to the laboratories of the pure food commission for analysis. He has already visited the greater part of the stores in the city and expects to complete his work to day. The samples taken are under lock and key, and will be shipped to the laboratories when the work here is completed.

When asked concerning the objects of the pure food commission and their methods, Colonel Ware said:

"The main object of our investigations is to see that all food products are properly labeled, so that all the grades of goods may stand on their own merits in the markets, and that inferior goods may not crowd out a superior article. It is not intended to hinder the manufacture and sale of healthful substitutes, as long as they are sold honestly under a true label. The object of the pure food law is to insure that the lower grades or adulterated article shall not come into direct competition with the genuine product."

"For instance, it is not unlawful to manufacture or sell alum baking powder. But such baking powder must be so labeled, so as not to compete with the cream of tartar product. The many glucose products may be labeled with any fancy names which the manufacturer or jobber may please to put upon them, so long as the names are not misleading. Thus, it would be illegal to label a mixture of glucose or sorghum 'Pure Sorghum,' for such a label would mislead the purchaser, although the mixture might suit his taste and his pocketbook. A product must not be labeled that which it is not."

"We have a great deal of trouble especially with vinegar and extracts. The law requires, for example, that lemon extract shall contain at least 5 per cent of oil of lemon, the remainder of the fluid being pure alcohol. Yet lemon extracts are on the market which show no trace of lemon oil or alcohol either, it being wood alcohol with an artificial flavor. We find vanilla extract, so-called, with no trace of vanilla, but a liquid artificially flavored with a preparation of coal tar."

"Distilled vinegar may be sold with no more restrictions than cider vinegar, provided it is not artificially colored. When it is colored it becomes a counterfeit of cider vinegar, and the dealer is required to label each and every sale 'colored distilled vinegar,' distilled vinegar being perfectly clear and colorless."

"It is contrary to law to label a product falsely, although the formula is printed on the same label. So a bottle containing a quantity of imitation peach butter cannot be labeled 'Peach Butter' with a formula printed on the same label showing that it is of an entirely different substance. There is a firm in Missouri which ships enormous quantities of colored distilled vinegar into this state, which is guaranteed to be pure cider vinegar, the manufacturer agreeing in a written contract to protect the dealer in the courts, hoping to make enough profit in places where prosecution is not entered upon to pay the costs and still make a large per cent."

"Here I have a bottle which is labeled 'Peach Butter,' with a formula printed beneath it in small letters. This is contrary to law, because the label is false and in contradiction to the printed formula."

"Here is a box of spice. I don't know anything about it. It may be perfectly pure, and it may not be. That is for the chemists to determine in the laboratories. The law requires that it be absolutely pure, as absolute purity is required in spices, and no adulterations are recognized as legal."

"These bottles of vanilla and lemon extract may be all right, but I do not know. I merely go into a store, make my purchases from the stock, place a seal upon it, cover the name of the manufacturer and the name of the article and send it to the pure food laboratories. Upon a card I make a memorandum of the article, purchase, price paid, where bought, etc., with a number corresponding to the number on the article itself. The chemist analyzes it under its number, and submits the analysis to the department, where it is put upon the reverse side of the card which holds the memorandum. Of course, where the fault is merely that the label does not agree with the printed formula, the infringement of the law is very evident."

"Further, every product must be stamped with the name and address of the manufacturer or jobber. And the safest way for a dealer to do is to trade with reliable firms and compel them to furnish a binding guarantee as to the purity and honesty of their goods. This guarantee should be to the effect that the manufacturer or jobber will protect him in case of prosecution under our food law."

Ordinary prosecutions are begun before a justice of the peace. That is the easiest way for all concerned. If a dealer feels the same on the ground that the justice has not jurisdiction under the law, we simply drop it there and have him indicted by the grand jury and prosecute him criminally. Of course the trial in the circuit court means increased costs. As a rule the dealers will plead guilty before the justice, as being the easiest way out of the trouble, and go back to the jobber or manufacturer and demand the sum of the costs and fine refunded."

"The Grocers' association of this state endorses the food law and the grocers as a rule do what they can to help us uncover deceptions. The grocers want to know just what they are selling, and want their customers to get just what the goods pretend to be. The experience of the department shows that in the central part of the state fully 90 per cent of the food products are just what they are sold to be. In the northern parts it is higher, owing to the good pure food laws which have been in force in Michigan and Wisconsin for a number of years. In the southern part the per cent is lower, because of the nearness to the markets of St. Louis, Louisville and Terre Haute. A great amount of adulterated products is shipped into this state from Missouri."

"I wish to emphasize the fact that it is not intended to hinder the manufacture of healthy substitutes as long as they are sold honestly under a true label, and it is certainly in the true interest, not only of the consumers, but of every honest retailer selling pure foods, who now suffers from the dishonest competition of those falsely branded."

Inspector Ware has been making a very thorough canvass of the stores of the city, and declares that he has found conditions here very much better than in other places. There seems to be a more general demand for a higher class of goods than in many places. He intended to finish his inspection last week, but was delayed in the work by the death of his brother in Champaign. He will probably finish to day and return to Champaign for a much needed rest."

The present pure food law was passed April 24, 1899, and became effective Jan. 1, 1900. Two or three chemists are kept busy all the time analyzing products. Since the commission has been in working order a very noticeable improvement has taken place in the quality of the food products of the state. Their work is thorough, competent and effective, and they have in a large measure the co-operation of the retail merchants throughout the state.

A GLADSTONE STORY.

Just now, when gossip about the repeal of the corn laws is current, space may perhaps be found for a characteristic story of Mr. Gladstone. Early in 1892, when Mr. Gladstone was absorbed in home rule and obsessed by the delusion that his policy was popular, he roundly declared that the Irish question was the most important controversy in which he had ever been engaged. A listener ventured mildly to suggest that perhaps the struggle for the repeal of the corn laws was almost as important as home rule, but Mr. Gladstone would have none of it. "I do not deny," he thundered, "that if the repeal of the corn laws had been defeated there would have been a revolution, but the Irish controversy is on a far higher plane." — Cor. Manchester (England) Guardian.

Civil War Battle Names.

Says "Colonel Ashby," the "Southern Brigadier" of the Chicago Journal: "By the way, did you ever notice this: That when a great battle of our late war received two names, one from the north and one from the southern command, history has almost always adopted the southern one? Shiloh was so called by the southern leaders. Its official name in the northern reports was Pittsburg Landing. Muhlenberg is called Stone River in the Federal reports. Antietam was called Sharpsburg by the northmen. Cuius, but true. How do you explain it? About the only reversal of this rule is in the case of the battle we called Manassas, but which lives in history as Bull Run."

Made the Spaniards Rear.

A strangely hilarious scene was witnessed in a Madrid theater the other night. Don Alens y Borbon, a cousin of King Alfonso in the second degree, finding himself in reduced circumstances owing to family misfortunes, has taken to the stage for a living and made his first appearance with the Fuentet company as the revolutionary Mario in "Les Miserables." In the scene when the prince-tragedian appeared on the barricade to cry "Vive la republique!" the idea of a lineal descendant of Louis XIV. rousing the mob against Louis Philippe was too much for the audience, who knew the actor well and literally shrieked with laughter.

ON THE ILLINOIS RIVER.

An excursion and shoot was given by the Beardstown Gun club Wednesday. There were thirty-five entries for the shoot and a good crowd patronized the excursion. J. Groves, of this city, and A. Milford, of Chapin, tied for high average, for which an extra large purse was offered. Mr. Groves reports a great deal of damage done along the river by the wind. Large trees were torn up and a great deal of other damage done to property along the shore. One of the deck hands was blown from the upper deck and fell on Charles Magill, injuring him slightly. The deck hand was unconscious for a while, but no serious results are anticipated. Herman Engelbrek was badly injured by being hit by a flying board. Those who attended from this city were Ed Scott, J. A. Riley, Charles Magill and James Groves.

CHANGE HEATING PLANT.

The contract for the plant has been awarded to George E. Mathews & Co., and work will be pushed forward as rapidly as possible.

Collins Bros., Rock Island; $3,283, $3,652 and $33,273.

The new building will be erected just west of the present school building and will be connected with it by a corridor. The building is to be plain, nearly square and will be three stories high. It will include a chapel, art studio, photographic gallery, girls' gymnasium and recitation rooms. The chapel will be in the third story and will be on a level with the second story of the old building. The new chapel will be a little larger than the one now used and will include a small but conveniently arranged stage, for use when entertainments are given for the pupils. Superintendent Gillett has considered the plans very carefully and believes that the building will fully meet demands.

JUSTICE COURTS.

In Squire Gray's court yesterday Everett Windsor and George Young, two very small boys, were arraigned charged with trespass. The complainant in the case was Joseph Wilson, a store keeper on South Main street. A large number of small boys were in attendance, as the parties to the suit were members of their ball team and it was while in preparation for one of their games that the alleged trespass was committed. James O. Priest represented the defendants and State's Attorney Smith and Felix McAvoy argued for the plaintiffs. After hearing the small amount of evidence at hand Squire Gray dismissed the suit against Windsor and told Young that the fine of $1 and costs imposed upon him would be held in abeyance just so long as he kept off the premises of Mr. Wilson.

BUYS DAIRY LUNCH ROOM.

Arthur Seegar yesterday bought the Dairy lunch room of L. B. Turner and has taken possession. Mr. Turner has been forced to quit the business because of ill health after having operated the place for about a year. This stand has been established for six years and for some time was under the management of the Davis bakery. Mr. Seegar has been in the restaurant and hotel business for about eleven years and it is his intention to make a number of improvements and make the restaurant modern in every way.

MINISTER SAYS HE WAS HYPNOTIZED

Rev. Mr. Wiseman Does Not Think He is Insane.

Rev. Benjamin Wiseman, of Zenobia, who was recently adjudged insane in Springfield, is now at Central Insane hospital. According to a Springfield dispatch to the Chicago Chronicle Mr. Wiseman now claims that hypnotism accounts for his recent actions. The Chronicle says:

"A remarkable story has been brought to light in the case of Rev. Benjamin Wiseman, a Baptist clergyman from Zenobia, who was adjudged insane in the county court in this city last week and ordered committed to the hospital at Jacksonville. It has just developed that Rev. Mr. Wiseman is not insane at all, but he says he has been under a hypnotic spell. He declares that he was hypnotized by a Missouri minister and told that he had been ordained by God to travel about the country barefooted to deliver spiritual messages to sinners.

"Word was received to day from the asylum in Jacksonville that Mr. Wiseman has not been insane since his arrival there and that he will be discharged unless signs of insanity soon develop. Sheriff Brainerd says the minister recovered his mind while on the way to the hospital. The night Wiseman was taken to Jacksonville he lapsed into unconsciousness at the county jail. It was feared that he was dying and a physician was summoned. His pulse and temperature were normal, but he could not be awakened. The physician pricked him with pins, but they did not have the slightest effect. Medicine was forced down his throat, but the patient could not be aroused.

"Wiseman regained consciousness after being put on the train. Sheriff said he 'I have been insane for a week and this is the first time that I have been in my right mind during that time. Will you kindly remove the handcuffs? It is all over. I am weak as a child. I now know what made me insane.' He then related how a minister in Missouri told him of a new religion and got him so interested that he hypnotized him. The sheriff did not put any confidence in the supposed recovery, but the hospital authorities declare that there is not the least sign of insanity about Wiseman."

MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

The Young Ladies' Missionary society of Grace M. E. church, both active and honorary members, held a sunset meeting recently on the lawn of Mrs. H. E. Rusk on West College avenue. The lawn was very prettily decorated with Japanese lanterns and presented a beautiful appearance. After the devotional exercises Miss Lillian McCullough gave two declamations that were received with much favor and Miss Mamie Melton related several interesting experiences in connection with her missionary work among the Japanese. A love story, written by the hostess, written on cards with blanks in the proper places, were then passed and much merriment was produced when the several versions were read. Later in the evening delicious refreshments were served and an evening of delightful pleasure and profit was all too soon brought to a close.

BITTEN BY MAD DOG

Little Paul Antreter Has Serious Injuries—Taken Pasture Institute.

Paul Antreter, son of Julius Antreter, was painfully bitten by a dog afflicted with rabies Wednesday morning. The animal rushed at the lad, who is about 7 years of age, and sprang upon him, inflicting a wound below the left eye and biting through the upper lip. He was at once taken to the office of Dr. C. C. Cochran, on West College avenue, where the wounds were properly cauterized, and upon the advice of the physician left on the evening train for the Pasture Institute in Chicago. The police were notified that the dog was at large and Chief of Police Dunavan went in search of him. The animal was found during the afternoon and promptly shot. The last three days have certainly been dog days and sharp lookout should be kept for canines similarly affected.

THE DEATH RECORD.

EHLERT.

Mrs. Nettie Ehlert died at 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at her home on North Fayette street. She had been suffering with consumption for a number of years, but until recently had not been bedfast.

Miss Nettie Alta Haxton was born in Brown county, Kan., in the year 1875. While 6 months of age she was brought to this city by her parents and here was united in marriage to John M. Ehlert in 1897, the couple removing to St. Louis. In 1902 the failing health of deceased compelled their return to this city.

She was a devout member of the Christian church and through all her suffering never complained, but trusted always in the Great Redeemer.

She is survived by her husband and two children, a daughter, Beatrice, aged 5, and a son, Floyd, aged 3 years, besides her mother, Mrs. Mary Haxton, four sisters and two brothers.

Funeral services will be held at the residence, 603 North Fayette street, Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

MRS. GULLER ILL

Bunker Hill Prisoner Cannot be Moved From Her House.

Bunker Hill, Ill., Aug. 5.—Ida Guller, who is charged with the murder of Ewart Checkfield by giving him poisoned candy, is in a very critical condition in her home.

She is suffering intensely from nervous prostration, and frequent attacks of heart disease.

All of last night the guards kept their steady pace back and forth in front of the house.

Since she was arrested, she has taken nothing to eat. Deputy Sheriff Edward Dickinson made a special trip to this place last night for the purpose of taking her away with him as his prisoner.

After a short conversation, the sheriff returned to town, but was not thoroughly convinced that Mrs. Guller was not playing false in her actions. Later, he returned to the home and made another attempt to take the prisoner. After consultation with the attending physician he decided that she could remain here until this morning, when he would appoint a medical commission to inquire into her condition.

A medical commission, consisting of Dr. J. L. Moore, Dr. E. S. Milton and Dr. E. P. Rink, called there this morning, and, after consultation, decided that to remove the accused murderer would be to court death en route.

The plea for the defense will be that the tablet which has been brought to light is one used by all dairy concerns in separating the fatty substance from the curd, and which is one of the strongest poisons known, was the instrument of death.

That the boy entering the Union Dairy company's office saw the tablet lying on the ledge of the building, and, thinking it candy, placed it in his mouth and ate it. Continuing, they will say that the boy, on finding it was bitter, began his journey home, and not having a better excuse, said that Mrs. Guller gave it to him. They say that the boy's testimony will not be permitted to enter the case, because it was his dying statement.

Application for habeas corpus proceedings will be made to Jesse Peoples, master in chancery of Macoupin, who will act in the absence of Circuit Judge Shirley.

IMPROVED FACILITIES.

The contract has been let by Supt. Charles P. Gillett, of the School for the Deaf, to the A. L. ### CONSUMPTION THREATENED.

C. Wagner, 21 Maple street, Champaign, Ill., writes: "I was troubled with a hacking cough for a year and I thought I had consumption. I cured my asthma and my bronchitis. I feel like a new man." For sale by J. A. Thompson.

IN THE GRASP OF A STORM

WIND PLAYS HAVOC WITH JACKSONVILLE TREES

Many Were Stripped of Their Branches and Others Uprooted—Telephone and Telegraph Wires Down—Storm Notes.

The wind and rain storm which struck Jacksonville about 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon was one of the most severe in the history of the city. The greatest damage done was to the trees which make Jacksonville beautiful, to the wires of telephone and telegraph companies and to those of the street railway company. There were no personal injuries recorded, but there was more than one narrow escape and it is to be wondered at that in the midst of such violence no one was hurt. No part of the city escaped and it will be a good many days before all signs of the hurricane have been cleared away. There will be lots of work for the city to do in the way of cleaning the broken limbs and branches from the streets and the work will occasion considerable expense.

The wind came from the northwest and rather suddenly, although those who had been on the streets at 1:30 o'clock noticed how dark was the northern sky and how angry looking were the hurrying clouds. The storm clouds moved from the east to the northwest and for a time it seemed as though they had passed several miles to the west of this city. But a few minutes later it seemed as if they turned about. To the observer there appeared a bank of green clouds, then one of white and then a surmounting pillar of black. There were very few people in Jacksonville who did not observe the heavens at this time and it was a moment of anxiety for the many who remembered on the instant of the devastation wrought in other years by other storms in this county. With a rushing sound the whole city seemed to be in the grasp of the storm at one time and the air was filled with flying branches, and with the sound of snapping timbers. The wind blew for several minutes and when it had spent its fury the rain came down in sheets and torrents.

At the Jacksonville Meat company's plant the roof on the fertilizer shed was blown off and landed several feet from the building. No other damage was done, however.

At the residence of Esquire Arenz on East College avenue the wind tore off a great many shingles on the west roof and the plastering on the ceiling and west wall was torn off, letting in lots of water, which damaged carpets and furniture considerably.

The roof was blown off one of the sheds at Jacob Cohen's iron yard.

A box elder standing in the yard of John Buckley at 301 East College avenue was snapped off about eight feet from the ground and fell alongside the house standing just east of the tree, pretty badly scraping the roof and breaking many shingles.

At the Woman's college a great many limbs were taken off the trees in the rear and one tree broken down. In front of the building the long row of box elders were badly stripped and a great many limbs piled in the yard.

In front of the home of John Hagel on East College avenue two tall box elders were torn out by the roots and lay over on the wires and cables of the Illinois Telephone Co., where they hung until workmen cut the limbs and with a team dragged them off the wires. The cable was badly stretched, but did not break.

At the next door east a tree standing in the rear of the residence of Mr. Reynolds was broken off and fell on one corner of the house, knocking off the chimney.

At the home of Mr. Cooper at the corner of Hardin avenue and East street a large limb fell on the side porch.

At the residence of J. L. Ogden on North Church street three large limbs were blown from a tree in the yard and one of them struck the roof of the house, breaking off a number of shingles. At the home of Mrs. Mary Deane on East Main street a large limb was blown from a tree and fell on the side porch.

HAD FOR THE TREES

A drive about the city last evening was all that was needed to convince one that the storm had been general. On all of the main streets and on most of the cross streets great fallen branches were to be seen and in many cases they had been twisted off on the main trunk. Perhaps nowhere were the signs of devastation more marked than on North Church street, between State street and Independence avenue. While there was no damage there to houses or buildings there seemed to be hardly a tree but had contributed in a small or large way to the pile of debris. Even young trees suffered and several of them were twisted off near the ground. A heavy branch was blown from a tree in Charles Minter's yard and brushed against the porch at Jacob Cohen's residence. Wabash park looked very much worse for the wind, the ground there being covered with limbs. On North Main street at the corner of Independence avenue a large branch carried a telephone pole and wires with it and on West Lafayette avenue near Caldwell street Commissioner Harney found a very complicated tangle of splintered branches and electric wires. On West State street the trees in Colonel Kreider's yard fared badly and one branch fell across wires belonging to the Western Union Telegraph company and tore them down. Farther west on State street, there were many branches torn from the trees in Miss Rawlings' yard and on Mrs. A. E. Ayers' lawn there is a great tangled mass of foliage. A heavy branch fell from the north across the porch at the Congregational parsonage and at the residence of James Buckley on East College avenue a large tree was snapped off a few feet from the ground and fell against the house.

TELEPHONES AND TELEGRAPH.

The Postal Cable office went out of business just as the storm broke. The St. Louis wire was disabled in the middle of a message and the Chicago wire snapped at the same time, thus cutting the office entirely out. No service could be had over their lines until after 5 o'clock.

The Illinois Telephone company had 135 phones put out of service by the storm and their out of town service was all down until late in the evening. Many wires were broken by falling limbs and sixty lead wires on Greenwood avenue south of the city were severed by a falling tree.

The Central Union Telephone company fared little better, all wires out of the city being down and all of the farmers' lines were disabled until late in the afternoon. The cable on Jordan street was broken and will be in operation in about three days. Damages are about $800.

The Western Union office had no wires out of the city until about 5 o'clock, when most of the trouble was cleared up and St. Louis and Chicago were finally reached.

ABOUT THE SQUARE.

In Central park the rush of the wind tore off a great many branches and scattered them about, but fortunately none of the trees were uprooted nor broken near their trunks. It seemed for a time as if half the signs about the square would be torn from their fastenings, but nearly all stood the test, though many of the supporting irons will have to be straightened out again. One freak of the wind was to lift the flat door which covers the entrance from the top story of O. K. store to the roof, and carry it clear over in the park. Several metal ornaments from other store buildings were also neatly deposited in the park.

NOTES.

At the Jacksonville Meat company's plant the roof on the fertilizer shed was blown off and landed several feet from the building. No other damage was done, however.

At the residence of Esquire Arenz on East College avenue the wind tore off a great many shingles on the west roof and the plastering on the ceiling and west wall was torn off, letting in lots of water, which damaged carpets and furniture considerably.

The roof was blown off one of the sheds at Jacob Cohen's iron yard.

A box elder standing in the yard of John Buckley at 301 East College avenue was snapped off about eight feet from the ground and fell alongside the house standing just east of the tree, pretty badly scraping the roof and breaking many shingles.

At the Woman's college a great many limbs were taken off the trees in the rear and one tree broken down. In front of the building the long row of box elders were badly stripped and a great many limbs piled in the yard.

In front of the home of John Hagel on East College avenue two tall box elders were torn out by the roots and lay over on the wires and cables of the Illinois Telephone Co., where they hung until workmen cut the limbs and with a team dragged them off the wires. The cable was badly stretched, but did not break.

At the next door east a tree standing in the rear of the residence of Mr. Reynolds was broken off and fell on one corner of the house, knocking off the chimney.

At the home of Mr. Cooper at the corner of Hardin avenue and East street a large limb fell on the side porch.

At the residence of J. L. Ogden on North Church street three large limbs were blown from a tree in the yard and one of them struck the roof of the house, breaking off a number of shingles. At the home of Mrs. Mary Deane on East Main street a large limb was blown from a tree and fell on the side porch.

ing just in front of the house broke off about half way and fell on the roof of the front porch.

In the rear of Rev. Dean Crowe's residence four limbs on a large maple tree were broken off.

An immense tree near D. Rees Browning's home was blown across the street car track and interfered with travel for some time.

One citizen who was out with his horse and buggy during all the storm, was naturally in a position to judge of its fury and said last night that it blew so hard that he could not breathe.

A great deal of damage was done to fruit trees on the Doan farm just north of the city and even the youngest trees suffered. In the orchard of Grimes Golden trees nearly every one was damaged and apples of all the varieties are now on the ground.

J. W. Melton, rural carrier, said last night that the effects of the storm between Jacksonville and Sinclair were about the same as in Jacksonville.

AT WOODSON.

At Woodson the roof was taken from a building at the tile yards and the roof at the elevator was damaged to some extent. Some small buildings about the town were turned over and all stacked hay was scattered about.

DEMOLISHED A BARN.

S. P. Chesney, one of the rural carriers was out in all the storm. He said last night that the wind had torn down a barn on Patrick farm, west of Woodson, and had taken the roof from a house on John Seegar's place. All hay and stacked grain in that vicinity was strewn about by the wind.

A large section of the tin roof of the J. Cohen warehouse was caught by the storm and rolled back for a considerable distance.

The building of T. Buhr on West Court street was among the store buildings slightly damaged. The wind loosened a portion of the slate roof of the blacksmith shop building at the car shops and gave the workmen a good scare.

Two trees in front of Oliver Milburn's residence on East State street were blown down and extended half way across the street, blocking passage on the north half of the thoroughfare.

A box elder tree in Hugh Wilson's yard on Grove street was blown down and across the street, carrying with it a number of telephone wires, and interrupted traffic.

Mail Carrier William Stott of route No. 4, which traverses the northwest section of the county, reports that corn is badly blown down in his territory and that the cattle in many places became scared at the storm and gave vent to unmerciful bellowing.

The chimney of the Mitchell hotel succumbed to the fury of Wednesday's storm and bricks flew in all direction for a short time, making passage in the neighborhood dangerous.

STABBED RIVAL, MARRIED GIRL.

Shelbyville, Ill., Aug. 5.—Arthur Niederfer, who last Monday stabbed Alva Harmon in Findlay, came to town with Miss Nell McKinney, daughter of William McKinney, of Todd's Point, and procuring a license the two wended their way to "Squire Johnston's" office, where they were united in marriage. This ends the rivalry over the girl. Both Niederfer and Harmon were suitors for her hand and the contest led to the fight of last week in which the two Harmones got Niederfer down and he stabbed Alva with a pocket knife.

At the preliminary examination at Findlay the excitement was great. "Squire Johnston" went up from here and heard the case. State's Attorney J. E. P. Grider appeared for the people and W. R. Chas defended. The plea was self defense and after conclusion of the testimony the justice declared the prisoner. Friday came the wedding.

JUMPED THE TRACK.

Wheeling, W. Va., Aug. 5.—A Pan-handle passenger train jumped the track at Linsley's crossing to night. The engine went over an embankment but the train remained on the track. Fireman Smith was killed and Engineer McGraw probably fatally injured. Several passengers were injured.
